

now there's less life in the oceans
(and in us)

I just won free groceries for a month! To celebrate, we're going out for the early bird supper special. I really look forward to playing these games because there are so many good prizes. One day soon I'm going to win a car, or maybe a trip, I just know it. Earl wants to go fishing off Florida, so we have to buy all these cans of tuna to collect the entry coupons. Funny, we don't even eat tuna. We'll probably give it to the cat.
